APPEAL

For the kind consideration of my colleagues, alumni, and other well-wishers of Jadavpur University:

I once again sincerely express my gratitude to everyone who responded to my earlier appeal for making financial contributions to enable the University to address the issue of the "digital divide" affecting a large section of our students. Based on the generous response that we received from my colleagues as well as members of the larger Jadavpur University family, the University was able to provide 250 smartphones to the needy students and data recharging to 750 students. The University is now required to initiate the third phase of the data recharging drive for our students.

In this connection, I once again solicit contributions from members of the extended University community so that we can initiate this process.

I do hope that, as on the earlier occasion, members of the Jadavpur University family will respond to this appeal to the best of their ability.

Those who are willing to make a contribution are requested to send an email to itsupportforstudents@jadavpuruniversity.in indicating their willingness.

Regards,

Suranjan Das
